

Tammy Marr - Pre-K

Tammy Marr has been teaching 3 and 4-year-old preschool at Immaculate Conception since 2006. She has a Bachelor's Degree in Child Development from Central Michigan University, with a minor in Psychology. She attends professional early childhood education seminars regularly to learn and share new ideas. She has been teaching young children for 19 years.

Mrs. Marr has a true passion for teaching and working with young children and their parents. She provides daily opportunities for children to investigate, explore, and discover the world around them. She incorporates early literacy skills into each preschool day. Some of her other passions include fitness, reading, and spending time with her family.
